matching everyday object.

learning to unlock a story.

through illustrated folktales.

find objects in their cultural setting.

↳ Two connected learning tracks: basic vocabulary + cultural stories. Finish playing and Jelly returns to the projection.

OUR DESIGN JOURNEY — From recognising words to discovering culture.

01 · FIRST ITERATION

Start with play

Hand-drawn objects, audio prompts and colouring introduced the core listen-and-identify interaction.

02 · AFTER THE SHOWCASE

Give words a world

We expanded beyond object naming. Folktales and festivals gave vocabulary a story, setting and cultural meaning.

03 · ITERATION 2

Connect the adventure

We linked basic learning, storybook unlocks and festival exploration into one guided journey with Jelly.

LEARNING FROM EVALUATION — Feedback shaped the next steps.

Annotated walkthrough feedback from a Chinese teacher with primary-school teaching experience.

Unclear what to do next.
Navigation needed clearer cues.
→ Guided prompts and visible storybook unlocks.

Narration described people and actions missing from the pictures.
→ Characters and simple animations show the story as it is told.

Cultural words needed meaning beyond their translation.
→ Chang'e and Mandalika stories connect words with traditions.

Colouring was positively received and retained. Next to explore: simpler story controls and clearer festival navigation.

Come meet Jelly. Choose a language. Start exploring.

Mandarin Chinese · Indonesian
Projection + mobile/tablet prototype